

Taras Shevchenko national university of Kiev
The Faculty of Philosophy
G.S. Skovoroda Institute of philosophy of NAS of Ukraine
Center of humanitarian education of NAS of Ukraine

CONDUCT

A competition for the best article, devoted a scientific inheritance of Ivan Vasylovych Boichenko

Problem: to show integration of philosophical problematics, which was developed by Ivan Vasylovych Boychenko, in history of domestic and world philosophy, and also in basic directions of development of domestic and world philosophy, as well as outline new directions in the development of philosophy.

Purpose of competition: make a contribution in systematization of scientific inheritance of Ivan Vasylovich Boychenko, to find out its new semantic verges and new scientific correlations with modern philosophy and other social and humanitarian sciences, and also those in philosophical association to these themes.

Participants of competition: to participate can all persons interested in a competition - not only philosophers, but all young scientists and graduate students, who are engaged by problems, which were worked out by Ivan Vasylovych Boichenko.

Article for competition: The articles for competition can be the scientific articles, written with the participants of competition and devoted concrete problems, which were worked out by Ivan Vasylovych Boichenko, or which are directly related to them, as well as revealing new directions of philosophical research.

Terms of competition: Deadline – on October 11 2021

The article in digital should be send to address: mykhai@ukr.net

To a competition there are accepted the articles, written specially for a competition, and also prepared in 2019, both unpublished and published.

The articles on a competition should not exceed 20000 signs (12 the standard typewritten pages).

The article should accompany with an annotation (up to 360 signs) and followings information about an author: first & surname (fully), age, scientific degree and rank, job or studies, position, contact phones, e-mail, address for correspondence.

The articles which acted on a competition are not reviewed and not return.

Working out the totals of competition: Judges in the complement are: dean of the faculty of philosophy at Taras Shevchenko national university of Kiev, academician NAS of Ukraine Anatoliy Konversky, director of G.S. Skovoroda Institute of philosophy of NAS of Ukraine correspondent member NAS of Ukraine Anatoliy Yermolenko, director of Center of humanitarian education of NAS of Ukraine, professor Volodymyr Ryzhko, professor of department of philosophy of Taras Shevchenko national university of Kiev, professor Mykhailo Boichenko.

Winners of competition will be chosen in a result of judgment and also the special prizes will be awarded.